Join us at the clubhouse of Clairton Sportsmen's Club to hear one of U.S. Law Shield's highly experienced firearms program attorneys teach an engaging class about the firearms laws in Pennsylvania. They will explain the laws in Pennsylvania that allow someone to use force to protect themselves or a third party. Additionally, they will explain when escalating levels of force can be used justifiably under Pennsylvania law. They will also discuss topics such as "the totality of the circumstances" and what "reasonable" means in a legal context.
